SUNO's School of Social Work to hold Open House for master's program

New Orleans, LA. - The Southern University at New Orleans (SUNO) School of Social Work will have an Open House for the Master of Social Work (MSW) program on Tuesday, April 14, 2010 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The event will take place in the Health and Physical Education Building at 6400 Press Drive.

"The SUNO School of Social Work's guiding principle 'Empower. Advocate. Transform.' is the key to many of our graduates' successes. As a result of our connection to communities and the success of our alumni, we maintain a waiting list of candidates every year," says Dr. Beverly Favre, the Dean of the School of Social Work.

For more information, call Harry Doughty at (504) 286-5378.

SUNO's School of Social Work is the flag ship program of the University. Its founder and matriarch, Dean Millie Charles, taught at SUNO for more than 40 years; and she was recognized as a pioneer in the field of social work by the National Association of Social Workers. Some notable MSW graduates include: Ronald McClain, President/CEO of Family Service of Greater New Orleans; Victor Sims, media commentator on social wellness and owner of Sims Social Services; and Reginald Browhow, Executive Director of Life Changers Resource Center and founder of the New Orleans Fatherhood Consortium.
