

Top stories in this newsletter

A worker lays bricks at Bashful Building

Flood gates to be installed at the University Center

New bricks on Bashful Administration Building

Construction workers have started to brick the floodwall on the back of the Bashful Administration Building.

Flood gates ready to be installed

The flood gates for the University Center have arrived and workers plan to begin installing them the week of April 7. Water proofing and terrazzo flooring installation also are expected to begin next week.
