October 27, 2021

Dear Southern University at New Orleans Community:

Due to potentially hazardous weather, Southern University at New Orleans will close today at 2:30 p.m. Faculty and staff will work remotely. Only essential personnel performing weather-related tasks will report to campus.

The University has developed an Emergency Preparedness Plan that will guide the operations of the campus during these types of emergencies. The Plan is outlined below:

- In-person classes and activities scheduled beginning at 2:30 p.m. are canceled. Online classes will remain virtual.
- Students that reside within the residential hall will be provided with pre-packaged meals, bottled water, and healthy snacks while sheltering in place.

Weather permitting; the SUNO campus will re-open for normal operating hours on Thursday, October 28, 2021. The University's Emergency Preparedness Committee will continue to monitor the storm and make the appropriate adjustments to changing weather conditions.

With kind regards,
