Dear Applicant:

We welcome your interest in pursuing a degree in the Southern University at New Orleans (SUNO) Master of Social Work Program. The SUNO School of Social Work student body is diverse and is composed of local, regional, international students. For nearly three decades, the School's diverse and highly qualified faculty has provided a transforming professional social work education to current students and graduates. Our graduates are widely recognized for their commitment to promoting the process of social change and social justice and are located in various professional social work settings throughout the United States. The MSW curriculum is challenging and requires evidence of values, ethics, and a commitment congruent with the social work profession.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK MISSION

The Mission of SUNO School of Social Work is to prepare competent and effective social workers committed to address the strengths and challenges of a diverse population in a changing and evolving global community. Quality educational experiences, undergirded by the School's themes of advocacy, empowerment and transformation, prepare baccalaureate students for agency based generalist practice and master students for agency based advanced social work practice. Such practice is further guided by the School's dedication to critical practice knowledge and skills and the essential values of the profession: service, social and economic justice, the dignity and worth of the individual, and the importance of human relationships.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK GOALS:

Teaching:

(1) To use learning approaches and prepare students to integrate the values of ethics, knowledge, and skill base of the social work profession with respect for all people aimed toward social change and promotion of social justice.

(2) To anchor social work knowledge in our program's themes of advocacy, empowerment and transformation.

Service:

- (3) To provide leadership to the university, the community and the profession.
- (4) To serve the local, national and international areas by preparing students to fill the dynamic social welfare resource needs for generalist and advanced practitioners.
- (5) To foster the commitment of students and faculty to active involvement in improving the quality of life in the community in which they live.

Scholarship:

- (6) To effectively assist the process of professional development among faculty and students.
- (7) To contribute to the knowledge base of the strengths of diverse client populations.

THE M.S.W. CURRICULUM

The School of Social Work program is NOT an on line program. There are sections of some courses offered on-line. The School of Social Work is committed to advocacy, empowerment and transformation, as both themes and methods which promote the processes of social change and social justice. The themes impose on the curriculum the responsibility for producing graduates committed to the development and implementation of strategies that are directed towards the achievement of cultural action that is liberating and transforming. It is the intention of the curriculum to educate visionaries and social activists, i.e., persons who know and act in contrast to being acted upon. Because the School of Social Work perceives social action to be an essential function of social work, the curriculum focuses on activities and processes at the institutional level as a means of effecting change.

The School of Social Work offers 60 semester hours for the M.S.W. degree including 900 hours of field practicum experience. It begins with a generic curriculum drawing from a broad foundation of social science and behavioral theory, social policy planning, research, and evidence-based methodology which provides the necessary knowledge to meet the fundamental needs of individuals, families, small groups, organizations, and communities. The program is designed to build on this generic base of knowledge, allowing students to develop competency in an area of specialization which gives focus to the broader range of alternatives for intervention. Students are required to complete a sequenced set of foundation courses prior to selecting a specific field of practice and intervention mode. The curriculum provides the student with learning experiences to develop competencies organized around a field of concentration in: (1) Health/Mental Health (H/MH), or (2) Children, Youth and Families (CYF) with a practice modality of direct service (DS) or administration, planning, organization (APO).

Admission Information and Application Instructions

ADMISSIONS:

Policies and procedures for MSW Admissions criteria are developed by the Admissions committee and are submitted for approval by the faculty and the Dean. The Chair of the MSW Admissions Committee is responsible for the coordination of the Admissions process ensuring that written policies and procedures are clearly delineated and adhered to accordingly. The School of Social Work reserves the right to change the content and format of its application without prior notice.

ADMISSION DEADLINES AND CRITERIA:

Effective fall 2019

The deadline to submit completed applications is March 31st for the fall semester admission (full time and part time), and March 31st for summer admission (advanced standing only). Full time and part time applicants are accepted ONLY in the fall semester. Advanced standing applicants are accepted ONLY in the summer semester. Admission decisions for the M.S.W. program are made by the Admissions Committee and are based on independent evaluations of past academic performance, relevant work, and /or volunteer experience, professional references, a personal narrative statement, an in-person written assignment, and if needed, a personal interview. Preference is given to applicants who have received a B.S.W. degree or completed a major in the social sciences within the last six (6) years. Full and part time applicants are notified of the Admissions Committee's decision within 60 days of receipt of their application by the School of Social Work. Advanced standing applicants currently enrolled in a BSW program will be notified of the Admissions Committee's decision based on when we receive the transcript of the final semester of their curriculum.

Criteria for admission to the M.S.W. program are as follows:

- 1. An earned bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university.
- 2. Nine (9) hours of liberal arts courses, 3 hours in each of the following: Psychology, Sociology and Biology or related sciences. Each course must have been completed with a "C" Grade or better.
- 3. An overall undergraduate Grade Point Average of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale. Advanced Standing applicants are required to have a 3.0 GPA. *A GRE score is not required
- 4. Evidence of writing skills comparable with a graduate level student which is evaluated through the applicant's personal statement and an on campus written exercise.
- 5. The on-campus written exercise is required.
- 6. Evidence of the ability to successfully matriculate in graduate education is evaluated through reference letters.

Applicants meeting all of the above criteria are accepted in the program based on the Plan of Study (Advanced Standing, Full Time or Part Time) as indicated on the application. Applicants applying for Advanced Standing, but do not meet the criteria are allowed to select another Plan of Study. Accepted applicants have 7 days from their letter of acceptance notification to inform the committee of their intentions. Each accepted applicant is expected to attend a mandatory MSW Informational Seminar prior to enrollment. Accepted applicants wishing to change their Plan of Study from full time to part time prior to initial enrollment should provide a written request to the Admissions Chair. Once officially enrolled (e. g., tuition and fees are paid) students, in consultations with their advisors, must submit a written request to change their Plan of Study from full time to part time to the Dean, School of Social Work for consideration. Granting a request for a change is based on availability of space in the requested plan of study.

The School of Social Work limits the number of students admitted with a GPA less than 2.5. Accepted applicants with less than a GPA of 2.5 are admitted as probationary students and must follow their specific Plan of Study to remain in the program. Advanced standing students are not accepted on a probationary basis.

Applicants with graduate degrees must contact the Admissions Committee Chair prior to completion of Admissions process.

Applicants must complete both the Graduate Studies and the School of Social Work applications. The applications' instructions should be followed very carefully to avoid possible delays in processing. It is the applicant's responsibility to make sure that a complete application packet is sent to SUNO-Graduate Studies by the respective deadline. The items listed below should be submitted to Graduate Studies: A complete application packet includes items a – d. All requested information should be submitted to Graduate Studies in one envelope. Transcripts may be sent via EScript.

- a. Completed Graduate Studies and the School of Social Work Applications.
- b. Transcripts: One official transcript from each undergraduate and graduate institution attended, including official transcript identifying the awarded degree(s).
- c. Three Reference letters: The reference letters must be from college instructors if graduated within the last three years, or a combination of Academic References and/or past or present supervisors from paid and or volunteer experiences. The Committee reserves the right to ask for additional information from the applicant and/or a personal interview. The reference letters must be on company letterhead and have the signature of the recommender across the sealed flap of the envelope. A Reference form MUST be included with the reference letter.
- d. Personal Narrative Statement requires a minimum of 3 double-spaced typewritten pages addressing all areas identified. (See narrative instructions on next page.)

- e. $25.00 nonrefundable application fee (cashier checks or money orders only) payable to Southern University at New Orleans. This fee covers both the Graduate Studies and the School of Social Work applications.

Upon the receipt of items, a-d from Graduate Studies an additional admission criterion is an in-person written statement evaluated by the School of Social Work.

A complete application packet and a $25.00 application fee must be submitted to:

Southern University at New Orleans
Office of Graduate Studies
6400 Press Drive– Administration Bldg., #201
New Orleans, LA 70126

All documents provided for admission belong to the University and cannot be returned to the applicant.

PERSONAL NARRATIVE

Instructions: Each applicant must complete a personal narrative of a minimum of 3 pages double-spaced. This statement should be thoughtfully prepared as it is often used instead of a personal interview. Please make sure your name is on each page of your statement. Your type-written statement should follow the format below and specifically address each of the following eight (8) areas:

1. After completing the MSW program, explain your future goals. How do you feel this social work program will assist you in achieving this goal?
2. Describe your experience with diverse populations and groups. Explain how these experiences have contributed to your interest in social work.
3. Describe your relationships with social workers and/or agencies.
4. Have you had paid or voluntary experience with persons who have influenced your decision to become a social worker? If so, explain. If not, explain what has inspired you to become a social worker.
5. Explain what social justice means to you. Explain how you see a social worker involved in social justice.
6. Explain why it is important for social workers to understand the importance of ethics.
7. If accepted into the MSW Program, how do you plan to meet the demands of rigorous course work while balancing personal and sometimes professional obligations?

8. Field education is the cornerstone of the social work program. How do you plan to engage and successfully complete the internship? Be specific when answering.

PLANS OF STUDY

The School of Social Work M.S.W. program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education and offers three (3) Plans of Study: Full-time, Part-time, and Advanced Standing. Each plan has a structured curriculum that must be followed. The full-time plan and part-time plan begins in the fall semester ONLY. The advanced standing plan begins in the summer semester ONLY. The School of Social Work does not grant academic credit for life or work experiences in lieu of Social Work courses or field content.

ADVANCED STANDING:

In addition to the criteria for admission into the M.S.W. program, an applicant accepted in the Advanced Standing program must have graduated within the last 6 years from a Council on Social Work Education accredited B.S.W. program with a "B" grade or better in all undergraduate social work courses, except SOWK 100: Introduction to Social Welfare, and have an overall 3.0 GPA on a 4.0 scale in all undergraduate work completed. The advanced standing plan is structured to allow students with an accredited B.S.W. degree to complete their course work in three (3) semesters beginning in the summer. It provides for the waiver of certain courses for the first semester of the foundation year. Advanced standing students begin their field practicum (minimum 16 hrs. per week) during the fall and spring semesters.

Total semester hours = 39

FULL-TIME:

The full-time plan consists of a planned, structured curriculum which extends over four semesters. Students enrolled in this plan begin their field internship (minimum 16 hrs. per week) during the first semester in the program. Semester hours for full time students vary from 15 credit hours per semester.

Total semester hours = 60

PART-TIME:

The part-time plan consists of a structured curriculum which permits students to complete their academic requirements in 3 years, (six (6) semesters plus two (2) summers). The foundation year is divided into four (4) semesters plus two (2) summers. During the first two years, students enrolled in this plan register for a minimum of six (6) to nine (9) semester hours. Students begin enrollment in Field practicum/seminar courses during the second year. The field practicum requires a minimum of 16 hours per week and begins during the fall of the second year. During the third year (specialization year) students continue to enroll in a maximum of nine (9) semester hours including a field practicum and seminar course. Total semester hours = 60.

FIELD EDUCATION:

The Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) 2015 Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards requires all MSW students complete 900 hours of field education. In order to fulfill this requirement, MSW students must complete 4 semesters of field internships (field practicums and weekly field seminar classes on campus). During each of these 4 semesters, students are required to complete a total of 225 hours at their field placement agency. In order to achieve the required 225 field hours within each semester, students must complete a minimum of 16 hours per week at their field agency for the 14-week semester period.

It is imperative that students plan ahead for the integration of the required field hours into their personal life schedules. Students should begin to structure their personal schedules to accommodate the completion of the 16 hours per week well in advance of the actual field placement.

The MSW program cannot assure the availability of evening and weened placements. Students may be required to be available for weekday hours for field placements. Most social service programs do not have qualified supervisorial staff or operational hours during evening and weekends for field placements. The field unit will try and accommodate evening and weekend placements if they exist, but cannot guarantee these placements.

OTHER MODES OF ADMISSION:

TRANSFER APPLICANTS

Transfer applicants are governed by the same application process and submission deadlines as full-time and part-time applicants. The official enrollment period for transfer applicants is based on the availability of certain courses they have not taken. Transfer applicants with prior graduate education in the field of social work are allowed to request a transfer of credits, not to exceed twelve (12) semester hours. Only courses completed at a M.S.W. program accredited by the Council on Social Work Education with a B grade or better will be evaluated. Courses requested for transfer must have been completed within five (5) years prior to the semester for which the applicant is requesting enrollment. In addition to the usual application material, course syllabi, course descriptions, transcripts and a Statement of Good Standing from the Dean or Program Director you must also complete the transfer credit form located on the MSW application.

RE-ADMIT APPLICANTS

Students who left the program and were not on probation are identified as re-admit applicants and are eligible to apply to return. To be re-admitted within one academic year of their last enrollment, students should submit a letter of intent to the Chair, MSW Admissions. Re-admit applicants in good standing wishing to return later than one academic year must complete a new graduate school and school of social work application by the submission deadline as full-time and part-time applicants.

PREVIOUSLY ACCEPTED APPLICANTS

Accepted applicants' applications are kept on file for one year. Those who wish to enroll within one academic year of their initial acceptance must complete a graduate studies application only. Previously accepted applicants with applications older than one academic year must complete an entirely new application through the normal application process.

When does classes begin?

Advanced Standing students begin taking courses during the summer session and classes begin no later than the first week in June. Full-time and part-time students begin classes no later than the third week of August.

FIELD EDUCATION

- 1. What is field education? Field education (field practicum and seminar) is a directed educational experience in social work practice with instruction offered by agencies and campus-based faculty members. Field education is conducted in two parts – the first year is for generalist practice and the second year is for advanced practice specialty. During the second year of field education MSW students will move to a new agency and in some instances a new department within their current agency to begin their advanced practice specialty geared toward CYF-Children, Youth and Families or H/MH-Health, Mental Health.
- 2. How many hours are required for field education? Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) requires 900 hours of field education for graduation. According to our curriculum, students must complete a maximum of 225 hours per semester (16 hours per week for 14 weeks). Full-time students enroll in the field practicum and seminar course each semester for the two years they are enrolled in the MSW program. Advanced Standing students begin classes in the summer, and are enrolled in field practicum and seminar courses during the fall and spring semester only. At this time, you are required to receive a field placement and complete 225 hours. Part-time students enroll in the field practicum and seminar course during their second and third year in the program, at which time he/she must have a field placement and complete the required 225 hours per semester.
- 3. How are students placed at field sites? As applicants are admitted into the MSW program (full-time/advanced standing) each will be assigned field placement contacts by the Field Education Department. Applicants admitted as part-time students will attend a mandatory field fair at the completion of their first year in the program. The field fair allows students to meet and setup interviews with agency representatives for potential field placements. The field fair is held every spring semester. All MSW students are required to attend the mandatory field fair at the completion of their first year in the program

Full-time students transition from generalist practice to advanced specialty practice and must meet with the field director to select a new agency who can provide the proper field training.

Part-time students transition from generalist practice to advanced specialty practice in their third year of the program and must meet with the field director to select a new agency who can provide the proper field training as well.

Advanced standing students are already in advanced specialty practice during their one year of the MSW program.

4. Can I use my place of employment for my field education site? The field education department has specific/strict criteria approval. CSWE states that the agency must have a license. The intern supervisor must have had an MSW degree for at least 2 years from an accredited university and also have a current license. All agencies must also meet Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) competency guidelines. Depending on the company, you might receive approval from the Field Education Director to use your employer.

5. What days/hours of the week should field placement hours be completed? There is no preset schedule for field placement hours. The field schedule is decided between the student and the field agency supervisor. Field hours can only be completed during the academic semester. Any hours obtained outside of this period will not count.

6. Can students complete their field education hours after 5:00pm or on weekends? Most agencies service their clients during the hours of 8:00am and 6:00pm. At this time, we have very few agencies who are open during evening and weekend hours. The School of Social Work cannot guarantee field placement for non-traditional hours. Students can complete field hours during non-traditional times as long as he/she has written approval from the agency director and the supervisor (with an MSW degree) is working during the same hours. Written approval must be submitted to the field director prior to starting field education.
